Thanks

Briefing RA on the project next week, was supposed to be today but got postponed.

We still believe High Point and Seven Hills are a single complete project and plan to raise and EIS again that would include both mines.

They are wanting a decision on High Pointe as soon as possible. They were in today asking when Seven Hills would be put on PN. So full speed ahead. So yeah, they still want them.

Thanks for the update. Any word on how they will handle the UMI pending and current applications?

Just FYI,

Peabody bought all the UMI mines. UMI as separate entity will likely be out of business in 3 months.
